Court Square Group to Lead Microsoft SharePoint® Seminar for Pharma and Biotech

Court Square Group will lead a seminar on the use of Microsoft SharePoint for pharmaceutical and biotech companies that want to improve document collaboration and management while retaining compliance.

Springfield, Mass., December 11, 2008 –Court Square Group, Inc., a professional services consulting firm specializing in strategic information technology and business process improvement for regulated industries, announced today that CEO Keith Parent, Vice President of Life Sciences-Enterprise, John Postle and Senior Consultant Cary Cyr will review uses of SharePoint in FDA regulated environments at Microsoft’s Waltham, MA offices on 201 Jones Road. The event will be held on February 4th from 8:30-10:00 a.m. Light refreshments will be served. To register, visit www.clicktoattend.com and enter code 134044.

The presenters will address the challenges and increasing demands facing pharmaceutical and biotech companies along the drug development lifecycle have an important need for controlled document management that is compliant with FDA regulations. Court Square Group will review how their needs evolve from having the ability to comply to actually complying and ultimately to achieving ongoing compliance through the use of SharePoint as a validated application in a qualified environment.

Different solutions will be discussed with a special focus on regulatory needs at various stages of the clinical trial process, including working with documents and data from outside providers such as contract research organizations (CROs). This interactive 90-minute seminar will end with the presentation of a brief case study and a question and answer session.
